Schools Respond to Normal Questionnaire.

This edition of the Courier has been prepared especially for the high schools of the district. The editors, therefore, asked for news that could be published; the following notes were received in time for this edition.

The high school at Jameson, Mo., had the largest graduation class in its history this year, there being fifteen to receive diplomas. Lola Reed won the highest honors which gives her a scholarship in the Chillicothe Business College, Maryville Normal or the Synodical College at Fulton, Mo.

The girls' basket ball team played four winning games; the boys' team played five games but did not win in every game.

The work in the home economics department consisted of serving hot lunch to the pupils twice a week, and the making of various articles of clothing. Mrs. Virginia White supervised this work.

Boys' and girls' clubs which were organized in the school were conducted by the teachers.

Platte City high school reports a track-meet held April 19 with Smithville in which Smithville lost to Platte 51 to 34. Only ten events were tried because one of Smithville's star athletes was unable to be with the team.

Sara McMonigile, a senior in the Platte City school won second place in the girls' declamatory contest held at Liberty, April 26.

The graduation exercises of the Orrick high school will be held May 11-16. The basket ball team played few games because of the influenza. This spring a baseball team has been organized. Five games have been played and four more are scheduled. The team lost two of the five games played.

The Forest City high school has an athletic association with a 100 per cent enrollment, two basket ball teams, a track team and a baseball team. This association tho but recently organized has purchased about $30 worth of track equipment.

A Good Sized Enrollment and a Big Program Starts Normal Term.

If the way in which the eight-week session has started off can be taken as a prophecy of the summer term, the school is rapidly swinging back to pre-war conditions. Almost two hundred have enrolled to date and a number of students are still expected. The greater part of those who have enrolled have signified that they are here for business the entire sixteen weeks. The chief drawing card of the summer is expected to be the ten-week-term which opens May 27.

The present program is being so arranged as to run thru the second eight weeks; one term courses will probably be repeated, or in cases where advanced work may be offered and the demand is sufficient, classes in these subjects will probably continue. The classes of the ten-week session will be absorbed in this program or adequately cared for otherwise. There are eighty-eight college courses now scheduled and thirty-two classes of high school rank. It seems as if everyone might find some subject of interest. These carry various hours of credit according to the number of meetings and preparation required. International Law is among the new history courses and is proving popular.

Mr. Howard who has been teaching political science in Missouri University is the first member of the summer school faculty to arrive. He will teach Ancient and European History and Economics.

Mr. Sims, who has had charge of manual training and athletics has gone to Edgerton, Kans., the home of his parents to rest and regain his health. Mr. Sims has been in ill health since his attack of scarlet fever last winter. The teacher who will take his place will come in a week or so.

Additional faculty members will be obtained to meet the needs of the dual session which begins May 27.

BOOKS GO TO THE SOLDIERS.

Librarian Wells' received an order from the Missouri Library commission for a gift of books for the soldiers and sailors. Two hundred and fifty books were called for at this time. The students and faculty of the Normal answered the call by giving from their libraries the entire number of books called for.

How You May Secure An Option On Your Future Career.

The summer term of the Normal opens May 27. The war impressed so strongly the need of a college education, a large attendance of teachers and college students is expected.

Young people graduating from high school this spring should get into school at once. The world confers her honors on the man who is prepared for them. College education prepares man for success. The highest rank, the highest position of trust during the war, was given to the trained man, the specialist.

The country needs men of broad culture and high ideals to become the leaders of the future. The college is the only training school. The college trains the mind as military training develops the body.

Courses especially designed to train men for public service are: International Law, Journalism, History and courses in social and economic education. Maryville Normal offers all of these courses with competent instructors at the head of each department.

The Normal has a beautiful campus, a splendid building, and good equipment. There are two excellent tennis courts and a fine baseball diamond. The school is located on one of the highest points in north-west Missouri and catches the breezes of summer if there are any blowing anywhere. Opportunities for development are offered in athletics, literary societies and christian organizations.

Maryville has churches of all the leading denominations. Good railroad connections can be made on either the Burlington or the Wabash. The life of the town is well adapted to study. Board and lodging may be secured at a reasonable cost in the homes of the city.

The Normal, located in the heart of Nodaway County, is the basis of study in the Vitalized Country Life. Recently, the school was recommended to the minister of education from Chile, as the institution to get the newest methods in education.

Teaching is more and more coming to be recognized as a profession. Higher salaries for teachers are coming, and along with that, better training for the profession. The Normal, as a training school for teachers, offers an excellent place to get this training.

H. S. Contests May 9 and 10

Many Contestants and Rooters Are Expected.

The annual literary contests and field meet, held under the auspices of the Normal by the high schools of the Northwest District will take place at the Normal May 9 and 10. Owing to the large number of entries, the meet this year promises to be the best ever held in Maryville.

Friday, May 9, at 8 p. m., the final debate and the contest in extemporaneous speaking will be held in the Normal library.

Saturday morning, May 10, at 9:30, the contestants will secure their numbers at the east gymnasium. At 10 o'clock the annual business meeting of the association will be held at the Normal in room 302.

Saturday afternoon at 1:30, the annual field meet will be held on the Normal athletic field.

Saturday evening at 8:00 the annual contest in declamation, oratory and song will be held in the Normal library.

The medals for the Inter High School Track and Literary Contest are here. There are 78 medals for the track meet and 10 for the literary contests. There are also 8 cups—three championship cups, three relay cups, one cup for song, and one for debate.

PARTY FOR ALL MAY 14.

The Annual May Party will be given by the juniors and freshmen, May 14, on the Normal campus. The guests are the faculty and all the students, both college and high school.

The plans for the entertainment are progressing and those who do not come will miss something very worth while.

Mary Condon was chosen May Queen in the recent election.

ing as a vocation, they can get courses which are a sound basis for professional training in other lines. Many of the present students at the school came here to get a basis for further specialization. All college credits received in this Normal are accepted by the leading colleges of the country.

This Normal is in your district and deserves your support. Why go elsewhere—the best is close at hand.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1919.

Miss Olive De Luce entertained her art classes April 24, at her apartments in the South Methodist Flats.

The histories of the various faculty members were read aloud midst much laughter, after each one had made their contribution to the harmonious whole. Each faculty member would have had difficulty in recognizing himself in the incongruous description which was given.

Pit was the next amusement. Then after refreshments were served by the hostess, fortunes were told.

Those present were: Elsie Houston, Eleanor Randall, Clifford Summers, Jessie Murphy, Alyce Leeper, Marjorie Wilfley, Garnet Stewart, Nora Dugan, Mrs. Gertrude Black, Hazel Cooper, Myrtle Messick, Lena Murray, Anna Nicholls, Maye Rust, Estelle Williams, Mrs. A. J. Cauffman and Mary Woolridge.

Mr. Miller will deliver addresses at the following places to high school graduates: Parnell, May 2; Tina, May 14; Gilman City, May 16; Blythedale, May 17; Osborn, May 21. The principals of these schools are all former students here.

Mabel Dunshee, a former student, died at her home in Stanberry, Friday, April 25. The faculty and students extend the sincerest sympathy to her family.

Warren H. Breit, B. S., 1917, has been re-elected as superintendent and Elizabeth Sobbing, B. S., 1917, has been chosen to act as principal of the high school for the coming year. These teachers are both Normal graduates. Another teacher has been added to the faculty. It is the intention of the board of education to employ teachers holding college degrees and who have had at least one year's experience in a first class high school.

In the sub-district contest held in Maryville, April 24, Max Schrier and Norris Crosby, both of Savannah, were awarded first place in the boys' extemporaneous speaking and declamation respectively.

The commencement of the Weston high school will be held Friday, May 30. The address will be given by Dr. J. W. Hudson of the University of Missouri. There are thirteen members in the class.

Weston had no football this year. A basketball team was organized and several games were scheduled last fall but owing to the closing of the schools, the games had to be called off. A baseball team has been organized this spring.

Miss Martha Denny, a Normal graduate is the sponsor of the sophomore class of the Maryville high school. This class has 60 members. LITERARY SOCIETY NOTES.

Eurekan Mysteries.

Yes, that's what the Eurekan poster said; promptly at 3:35 in room 301, Thursday afternoon, May 1, the many mysteries were revealed.

The President, Joe Ferguson, explained the mysteries of the Normal; Jack Bland told a short story on Out of Luck; Reading, Etha Henderson—Too Young to Know; Talk by Allen Willis on Mysteries of Financing the Society. Ex-president, Jesse Z. Murphy revealed past mysteries of the society. The greatest mystery of all was Dad Scarlet's revelation on why he has been forced upon this school so many years. Dad's mystery was followed by I Love a Piano. Alyce Leeper.

The following visitors joined the mystery-band and told stories: Velma Appleby, Harold Wiseman and Helen Miller.

Big Bill had charge of this program. Before he read the subject of the mystery and the name of the performer he gave the necessary information.

Therefore we entered and left Mystery Land at the proper gates and no fines were needed for trespassing.

Real Philo Spirit.

The first number on the Philo program Thursday afternoon, May 1, was Echos by the new officers. The Echos were in form of questionnaires, to show the ability of the new Philo officers. The president asked the questions. Some of the questions and answers were: Define camouflage; camouflage is making somebody believe something is different from what it is to be before making it look like what it is not. What is bookkeeping? Forgetting to return borrowed books. How is South America divided? By earthquakes. Where is Pekin?

That is where all the men would go if all the women were in China. What is a miracle? A miracle is something somebody does that can't be done. Why was Mary Condon elected May queen? Because she got the most votes. Why is the eighth period omitted Thursday? So the Philos can have a meeting. What is Pres. Richardson's chief fault? He isn't a Philo. What is Pres. Richardson's most popular edition of the Bible? The Catalogue.

The second number on the program was an instrumental solo, Silver Nymphs, by Pearl Bryant. This number was followed by Genii in the Flask, by Mattie Dykes. To illustrate the genii, the speaker told a story from the Arabian Nights and compared this genii with the genii found in the Philomathean Society.

The secretary read a letter to the society from Henry Miller, a former Philo. Henry's letter was one of congratulation to the society for their recent victories in the literary contests.

The program next week will have travel for the main theme. Everybody is welcome. Come and enjoy yourself. We wish to urge all the new students to see that their names are on the Philo roll. We are planning a good time for all our members this term. Join the Philos and prepare for a good time at their picnic, May 15.

Excelsior Notes.

The Excelsiors opened the new term Thursday, May 1, with real pep and enthusiasm. After a cordial welcome to the new and old Excelsiors, Veturia Faubion played a favorite piano selection. Jesse Fannon then sang a vocal solo in a very pleasing manner. A short time was devoted at the close of the meeting to a social "get acquainted" stunt.

The Excelsiors are always glad to have visitors and members. New students get in line, join a literary society. We'll be glad to have you.

Eurekan Reception.

The Eurekans gave a reception April 31, to the faculty and students. The following program was given: Reading Mr. Miller
Instrumental Solo Maye Rust
Reading Etha Henderson
Orchestra Music by Mr. Osborn, Ralph Yehle, Harold Adle, and Virginia Lawson.
Ice cream was served.

A family luncheon, served family style, was given April 19. The guests were the members of the class, Velma Appleby, Ruth Jones, Wave Hulet, Viola Barber, Mary Woolridge, Laura Curfman, Miss Anthony and Mrs. Digby.

Menu:

Grapefruit with strawberries, radishes, asparagus tips, cream peas, cauliflower, planked steak, ripe olives, hot biscuit, pineapple ice cream, cake, strawberry bonbons, crackers and cheese, coffee.

MAY DAY OBSERVED BY CHILDREN.

May Day was observed as a Franco-American children's fete day in the Demonstration School. The children decorated the kindergarten room with spring flowers, French and American flags. The program consisted of songs, a military drill and a May pole dance.

The May Day parties throughout the United States this year were Franco-American festivals to cement still more firmly the friendship of the two great republics.

The plans for an International May Day were suggested by a former United States ambassador to France and were sent out to the governors of all the states.

GRADUATING CLASS ORGANIZES.

The graduating class of the Normal met April 30 and organized in order to carry forward the work of preparing for the coming commencement in June.

The following officers were elected: Pres., Mattie Dykes; vice-pres. Mary Woolridge; secretary, Virginia Lawson; Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Cauffield. Miss Winn and Miss Brunner, advisers of the senior and sophomore classes will be sponsors of the class.

The commencement exercises this year will be of a patriotic nature in commemoration of our soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice and also in honor of those who will return, both men and women.

On class night three one-act plays will be presented; this is in accord with the new dramatic movement and as men are at a premium in the class, it was necessary to choose plays in which women characters predominate.

MAY MORNING BREAKFAST.

The Y. M. C. A., and Y. W. C. A., gave a May morning breakfast to the faculty, the ministers of the town and the association members May 1.

The menu was as follows: grape fruit, bacon and eggs, hot biscuit, strawberry preserves and coffee.

The invocation was given by the of ice cream and cake were served.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson. Between the first and second courses Dr. Cox sang a May song, accompanied by Miss Willetta Kittell. Mr. Osborn, Ralph Yehle and Virginia Lawson played.

Dad Scarlet acted as toastmaster. Mr. Coile responded to a toast on the Value of Membership in Christian Organizations. Bill Richards spoke on Standards of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Davis responded with a talk on Values of Y. M., and Y. W. associations in school. Dora Allen Willis closed the program with a talk on Things that Matter.

EUREKAN PICNIC.

The Eurekans had a picnic April 21 in spite of the rain. Wieners, pickles, sandwiches and marshmallows were served. Many were the marshmallows that came to grief and went up in smoke, but those who were brave enough to risk the chance of getting wet, had a jolly good time.

Big Bill tried to eat as many pickles as Helen Dean, but he was unsuccessful.

There were two (or maybe more) pairs of Strollers that evening. Are all of them "The Stroller?" If they are, then the identity of that mysterious person is no longer a secret. The Eurekans would certainly have one over the Philos and Excelsiors if the Stroller should turn out to be one of their number, wouldn't they?

A. C. A. ENTERTAINS H. S. GIRLS

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae gave a reception to the girls graduating from the Maryville high school and from the Normal high school course at the Conservatory, Sunday afternoon, May 4.

A musical program was given by Conservatory students. After this, short addresses were given by President Richardson and Mrs. Leeson. President Richardson's subject was The Need of College Training for Women. The subject of Mrs. Leeson's talk was, The Advantages of College Training for Women in the Home and in the Community.

After the program, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

THE STROLLER.

We wonder how many boys in the high schools to which this paper goes have ever tried the trick a lot of M. H. S. boys tried the other day. The oldest teacher said it was very, very naughty and that it never happened when she was a child, but the youngest student said that was probably because they didn't have telephones then and anyway she couldn't remember that far back.

At any rate, naughty or not, these boys pretended to represent the M. Telephone Company and called up a number of citizens round about, asking them to place something over the receiver as the company desired to dust the line. The funny part is that most folks did as requested and refrained from using the telephone the greater part of that day.

Did you notice how important the Stroller is getting? The printer put some of his items on the front page and many readers had to reverse the order in which they read the paper. He surely strolled all over the page.

But maybe his strolling days are over. He has been called upon to chaperon Hattie Hall and Ralph Yehle who were in two classes together last semester and are in three of the same classes this term. In fact, on the other hand, the Stroller may decide to run a matrimonial bureau. Any one who desires may hand his name in at the Courier office and if there is sufficient demand one will be organized, if it is at all possible.

Strolling down the hall the other day, the Stroller found some torn bits of paper on the floor of the corridor just outside of Mr. Osburn's room. Piecing them together, the Stroller found this interview in the handwriting of Mr. Osburn's reporter:

"And in what state were you born, professor?"

"Unless my recollection fails me, young woman, in the state of ignorance."

"Ah, yes, and how long have you lived there?"

Pud Curnutt taught a history class Down in the Junior High, I wish I might say the children were good,

But an editor may not lie.

Unfortunately, Pud in her ecstasies wild,

Painted her face up with ink And now she confesses the laugh was on her—

That she was a goop and a gink!

This is the type of interview the students would like the Green and White reporter to give Mr. Howard:

"Are you married?"

"If not, are you engaged?"

"If not, do you prefer curly or straight hair, complexion painted or unpainted, eye smile or lip smile?"

This especially refers to the feminine portion of the students of course; the student body as a whole is more interested in the following:

"Do you give high grades or low ones?"

"Can you be worked? If so, how?"

Do you give a final exam, a written lesson every week or five minute daily tests?"

"Do you swear by Ogg?"

Mr. Howard was heard to ask how many buildings we have here and how he could teach High School European History and College Economics at one and the same time.

There are petticoats, or used to be. And the Stroller has found a new use for them, just too late.

There is the petticoat that always shows—the one girls tell their friends about in whispers, as they discuss newly washed hair or Melba powder.

Petticoat or skirt has been man's historic name for woman. A little hilly path which the Indians once trod on their way to tribal festivities now bears the name of Petticoat Lane.

But these are not all the uses of the petticoat. In one of the sub-district contests, an extemporaneous speaker used hers to telling advantage. Whenever she ran out of anything to say, she flirited her petticoat. The Stroller sat next to one of the judges. This judge remarked what a good looking petticoat it was—and her grade was correspondingly good. The only reason she did not win out was that the other two judges were women who were on to feminine arts and wiles.

Big Bill, the Stroller saw you and it wasn't in the pale moonlight either. He couldn't tell who the girl was, but he could not be mistaken about you. Too bad she escaped.

Mr. Wilson received a card from Mr. Foster, dated April 12, on which he said: April 2 is a holiday for us. We are "policing up" to receive General Pershing tomorrow. The army is to take over all educational work April 15. The Y. M. C. A. men here have the privilege of remaining or of leaving the service. We are asked to remain. I have not yet made my decision. I am teaching one class in the University.

The Sirens, Presbyterian orchestra and choir, met at Miss Zenor's home Tuesday evening, April 22, to "try out" her new Meissner piano. Music and stunts were the features of the evening.

Carolyn Tandy and Ruby Ewing, of Grant City are attending the Normal again. They both have positions in Grant City for the coming year.

Hallie Buntz, who has been teaching near Maitland enrolled May 5.

CLASS AIDS THE BIRDS.

At the close of last semester, Mr. Leeson's class in biology had a bird exhibit consisting of bird houses, nests and bulletins on bird life. It was a practical display of bird work, showing what may be done to aid our bird friends.

Miss Bogg's Play Ground class brought their lunches April 17 and ate them in the Kindergarten room. After lunch many of the games which had been discussed in class were tried out by the little folks with the class observing.

The Perrin Hall bunch gave a line party last night at the Empire. Those who attended were: Vera Judy, Imogene Watson, Viola Brandt, Mildred Broyles, Merle Miller, Maye Ruste, Billie Moore, Nellie Borchers, Alyce Leeper and Eunice McGee. Refreshments were served at the Candy Kitchen immediately following.

A party from Perrin Hall drove over to Conception, April 20, to see the Convent and Monastery. Those including the party were: Mrs. Perrin, Mrs. Oman, Sherburne MacLeod, Elizabeth Moore, Viola Brant, Mary Jenkins, Myrle Miller, Imogene Watson, Mary Esther Murphy, Merle Ford, Elizabeth Keck, Vera Judy, and Alyce Leeper.

Mrs. Harry Mutz entertained for her sister Miss Greta Hemp April 16.
